MONTANA LOSES DEBATE TO U. A. C. ON CENTRAL BANK QUESTION.

The long contended question, resolved, that a central bank be established, to be operated by the federal government, constitutionality granted, was definitely and forever settled last Saturday night, when the forensic representatives of the Montana Agricultural College and the U. A. C. met in fierce combat. After hearing the arguments from both sides, all three judges decided in favor of the central bank plan.

Hon. E. W. Robinson, as chairman, read the conditions of the debate and introduced the first speaker for the affirmative, Mr. Vern C. Wooley. In an earnest and deliberate fifteen minute talk Mr. Wooley stated the question and called attention to the failure of the present system. That the existing evils would be remedied by the central system, he said, would be proved in four ways, namely: increase of bank reserves, checking speculation, improving the treasury system and by making our currency more elastic. Besides outlining the ground that his side of the question covered, Mr. Wooley gave concrete examples to illustrate his statements in regard to the failure of the present system. His delivery was excellent and showed thorough preparation and his summary was clear and concise.

When the applause had died, Mr. J. W. Krenmer, for the negative, was introduced. He proposed the Fowler bill as the proper remedy for our banking troubles, and offered, as argument that a central bank was wrong in practice, the failure of the first and second United States banks. He stated that the 1907 panic was caused by the money kings of Wall street and not by defects in our banks. Mention was also made of the political corruption that would also creep into the central bank management.

The effect of Mr. Krenmer's facts and his impressive, dramatic voice were somewhat lessened by his reference to notes and hesitation in delivery.

Mr. R. O. Porter, for the affirmative, then showed why the first and second United States banks failed, claiming that they were established for political purposes only, and failed for this reason alone. His argument was for an addition of the central bank to the existing system, and not for a complete revolution of banking. He proposed the Muechlin plan whereby the country would be divided geographically into eighteen districts, each electing two directors for the central bank. And every bank in these districts to be a shareholder in the central bank. Mr. Porter cited the success of similar banks in foreign countries and the failure of systems similar to our

BEAUTIFUL TIMEPIECE PRESENTED TO LIBRARY BY CLASS OF '10.

Following the worthy precedent set by the class of last year, the seniors early last fall began to think of making a present to the college of some useful article by which the class could be remembered. Such various things as cement walks, gateways, statuary and books were discussed, but after careful consideration a fine library clock was selected.

The gift came as a surprise, as no one besides the class, the president of the college and the board knew that such a move was on foot.

Tuesday was chosen for the presentation services, the clock having been placed the day before. The seniors, forty strong, marched in single file from the faculty room into the chapel and took their places on the platform, the faculty occupying the regular seats of the seniors. In a neat little speech Mr. A. H. Saxer, representing the class, presented the clock to the college. Following which the clock was unveiled in the library.

The clock is a beauty of the Seth Thomas make. The dial measures twenty-three inches. The face is a slab of Vermont marble and measures about thirty by forty inches. The hands and numerals as well as the words "Class of 1910" are in heavy bronze. Only the marble face of the clock projects beyond the surface of the wall, the movement being in the wall. It was obtained through the Needham Jewelry Co. It is significant to note that Seth Thomas, organizer and proprietor of the great factory bearing his name died while this clock was being manufactured.

The clock is greatly appreciated by all. It is a long needed article.

MOTHERS DAY

The Governor has issued a proclamation designating next Sunday as Mothers Day. Appropriate services will be held in the churches of the city. The white carnation is the emblem for this day and they will be sold by the Sorosis girls this afternoon.

CITIZENS VISIT

SEVERAL PROMINENT MEN OF CITY INSPECT COLLEGE. LUNCHEON SERVED.

With the object of making the Domestic Science Department better known of local people, the college authorities have decided to have a series of parties of prominent townspeople visit and inspect the building and equipment. The first of this series took place last Wednesday when the following people were conducted through the building: Messrs. Isaac Smith, N. W. Kimball, J. E. Cardon, J. E. Wilson, Anthon Anderson, W. M. Evans, Joseph Newbold, John Q. Adams, Oscar F. Rice, Lorin Merrill and N. J. Johnson.

After the tour of inspection was completed an excellent luncheon was served at which, besides the guests, were present, Miss Huntington and President and Mrs. Widtsoe.

THE "GEISHA" PRESENTED

THE MOST SUCCESSFUL AND ENJOYABLE MUSICAL PRODUCTION EVER PUT ON BY A. C.

Monday and Tuesday evenings the U. A. C. Opera company put on the most successful and pleasing musical production ever attempted by the music department. All the words of praise that may be said of Prof. Thatcher and the company are inadequate and insufficient to express our appreciation for their most excellent work.

Few people give enough consideration to the Music Department and also few realize the amount of time and energy that must be devoted to work of this kind in order to bring out the results shown. When the curtain went up for the first act we had a glimpse of "Happy Japan" with the little tea house of "Ten thousand joys" and the chorus decked out in kimonos and other Japanese costumes and from then on until the close of the first act every one was lost to everything but the troubles of Wun-hi, sympathy for Mimosa San, and interest in the "French girl," etc. The setting for the second act was the gardens of the "all powerful" Marquis Imari, where we see the action reach the climax, in the release of Miss Molly Seamore and the marriage of the Marquis. The stage setting was pretty and attractive, and was painted by Profs. Fletcher and Powell for the occasion.

Miss Ethel Jensen as Mimosa San had our heartiest support from the start to the finish and we feel that the English officers as well as the Marquis were fully justified in enjoying her company and our only criticism is that she did not sing oftener. Juliette Diamant or the little French girl had the best wishes for success in her undertaking, and we were all ready and willing to go on the stage and slaughter the high headed Jap official for his disregard for her

In this part Miss Ormsby was charming with her French "Oui" and foreign costume and better yet in the glimpse we had of her in the bridal Kimono and we would have liked it better had she sung to us more and said less to His Highness.

The actions of Lady Constance met our hearty approval when she showed the bigness of her heart in rescuing Mimosa San. Miss Nebeker was admirably suited for the part and her singing was heartily enjoyed. Miss Emma Linnartz made a decided hit in her clever acting and songs and was entirely successful in showing her English officer where he stood. The Geisha girls, Misses Mae Edwards, Hortensia Hendricks, Eurilla Greenhalgh and Florence Smurthwaite, were the life of the tea house and exhibited the proper grief at their fate when sold. The English Ladies accompanying Lady Constance and the tea girls with the chorus added the necessary touches. Mr. Karl Farnsworth as Mr. Reginald Fairfax, the English officer, was made to repeat several of his songs for the audience and throughout the entire performance the audience gave evidence of their appreciation of his singing.

Wun-hi, the crafty Chinaman, brought the house down time after time by bits of very clever acting. As well as we all know Albert Bowman, it was some time before he was recognized in the pigtail and "shapely" suit, and the "chink" phrases which he got off on the slightest provocation will probably never again be repeated by a Chinaman. Of all the wooden necked, high headed officials that ever ruled in Japan, George Caine probably was the limit as the Marquis Imari. He would look neither to the right nor to the left, and when he spoke all Japan trembled and it should please him to know that we were gratified to see him outwitted by Mimosa San. L. M. Wineor as Dick Cunningham one of the ship's officers upheld his reputation of former years with his usual good work. A. E. Stratford carried the part of the Japanese lover well and it was with satisfaction that the audience saw him take his own (Mimosa San) before the final curtain. Messrs. Arthur Johnson, Hyrum Cragun, and W. R. Smith as Fairfax's fellow officials did their parts well and gained only favorable criticism. As said above, not enough praise can be given those who helped put the "Geisha" on. We are proud and justly so of the production and we feel that with the putting on of the opera a deed was well done.

The complete cast is as follows.

FACULTY ADDITIONS

MANY NEW MEMBERS TO STRENGTHEN SCHOOL NEXT YEAR.

President Widtsoe returns from the east with the glad tidings that several first class faculty members have been selected. And there are still some selections to be made, so that the faculty will be substantially strengthened.

Prof. Wilbert S. Drew M. E. A. M., a graduate of Michigan University and Columbia University, at present in charge of the shops at the University of Chicago, will come to take charge of the shops and the course in farm mechanics. Professor Drew sails for Europe soon, to study the method in use in the great foreign schools and will arrive in Logan in August.

Professor Harrison C. Dale, A. M., at present instructor in history at Harvard, will take the place to be vacated by Professor Evans, in the department of history.

Miss Florence M. Brown, A. B., who is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and has done considerable post graduate work at Columbia, will succeed Miss McKay in the Domestic Science department. Miss Brown is now instructor at the Montana Agricultural College.

Mr. Parley E. Peterson, A. B., now studying business administration in Harvard, will take the position which Professor Goddard resigns in the School of Commerce.

Mrs. F. E. Clark, A. B., also from the University of Michigan, is engaged in the English department. Mrs. Clark has been with us for the last few months as instructor in English and needs no further introduction to the students.

In addition to this large number from the far east, the following instructors each holding a B. S. will be added to the teaching force: C. B. Hirst, A. H. Saxer, Amelia Manning, Florence Dudley, Erastus Peterson and A. E. Aldous. Most of these go into the departments of agriculture and domestic science.

With such an array of new faculty members, every student will, no doubt, feel an increased desire to return next year. The College authorities are to be congratulated on the excellent choice made.

At its last meeting the Ag. club elected J. W. Sessions president, A. J. Knapp, vice president, A. C. Cooley, secretary and L. A. Richardson for librarian. Seventy dollars was turned over to the gymnasium fund. The report shows the club to be flourishing.

HANDICAP MEET MAY 2, 1910

Monday our track men had another excellent tryout. The track was good and the men are getting into fairly good condition. The time made in the mile was lowered to 4:51 by Cooley. This is the record of the school, cutting that made by Nebeker of two years ago down three seconds. Steed was on the scratch with him during the whole four laps and one was always in suspense as to who would win. Wyatt sprung an immense surprise when he won both the quarter and the half from Capt. Plant, running the quarter in 53 2/5 seconds and the half mile in 2:06.

These four men with Whitehead, certainly make our State Meet prospects look good. With two more weeks to train and the seriousness with which the men are all taking their work, and things in general, facts certainly point toward results. Each year we get a little better, but this year our sprinting men for relay purposes and the distance men certainly climax any whom we have had heretofore.

On the whole our team is very strong comparatively, and the men are doing good work in good form and with considerable ease.

Summary.

100 yard run—Whitehead, N. A. Peterson, Carmichel. 10 1/5.

220 yard run—Whitehead, N. A. Peterson, Carmichel. 23 1/5.

440 yard run—Wyatt, Plant, Adams. 53 2/5.

880 yard run—Wyatt, Plant, Adams. 2:06.

1 mile run—Cooley, Steed, Holmgren. 4:51.

High Hurdles—Paddock and Hancock tied. 18 2/5.

Low Hurdles—Allred, Johnson. 28 3/5.

Pole Vault—Hancock, Johnson. 10.3.

High Jump—Frøerer, Snow, Hancock. 5.3.

Broad Jump—Paddock, Frøerer, Snow. 19.

Hammer—Olsen, Paddock, Mortenson. 103.2.

Discus—Peterson, Knapp, Paddock. 110.7.

Shot—Peterson, Mortenson, Paddock. 33.5.

Relay—Whitehead, Allred, Peterson, Wyatt. 1:35 2/5.

ERRORLESS GAME

Last Saturday our baseball team played the greatest game ever played in Preston. Not an error was made. Not even one single solitary safe hit. Our men were on the field all the time, always ready and anxious to do their part, and when the ball came to any of them they simply ate it up. But lo and behold it did not come, for the down pour of rain held them locked in the grandstand off the diamond, and prevented Sam from getting at the Prestonites.

The ball game was no game, because of the superfluous H₂O coming from the sky in streams. The team, however was the guests of the Academy ball which was given in their honor in the evening, after which the fellows were unanimous in declaring the trip worth while.

VOL. VIII. No. 30.
Friday, May 6, 1910.

We hope that the incoming staff of Student Life will not experience the extreme difficulty in procuring information about a certain class of social affairs that we have met with this year. Of course, whether we have any means of getting this information or not, those present at the event come around with a bitter frown if we haven't given it a detailed write-up or if we have, through not knowing about it, omitted it entirely. We refer to those functions which are of the nature of banquets, lunches or parties given under the auspices of our student body, in honor of visiting teams.

Visiting football, basketball and debating teams as well as similar teams of our own school have been treated to various "feeds" and with but one insignificant exception no representative of the students' paper has been asked to be present. Considering the fact that those present at such banquets expect them to be written up and the general student body expects it, it is indeed strange that some member of the staff is not asked to be present as a representative of the paper. Our dignity receives a rather humiliating blow when we are compelled to "rustle around" the next morning, find someone who was present and "pump" him for a few notes so that we can give it a write-up. Student Life is to the college what a newspaper is to a town. Can any reader of this paper stretch his imagination to a point where he can conceive of a city entertaining a delegation from another city and not asking newspaper reporters to be present? We do not want anybody to think that this blunder has been anything but an oversight of those in charge. Perhaps, next year, the staff will have this little courtesy extended to it, which of course doesn't help matters much this year.

This problem has been one of the very few disagreeable features of the staff members work that has at times made them approach the use of cuss words in running the paper.

It would, of course, be unfortunate if each succeeding administration could not be improved and this is one of the ways in which next year's student body government can be improved.

The Boosters Club of Logan has asked for the students co-operation in making a success of the annual "Clean up Day." The invitation was not accepted with very great zest. But it is hoped that those few students who opposed it have thoroughly considered what this day means to the college and city. No student with the interest of the college at heart will hesitate to take his rake or shovel and go out on the streets and aid this excellent move for civic improvement.

Chapter four of the Junior-Senior tragedy was found in our contribution box this morning. The article is well written and contains several ideas that we would be glad to publish. But the writer has very unfortunately neglected to attach his signature to the article and hence we are prohibited from printing it.

SUMMONS

To Every Member, Greetings

You are hereby respectfully summoned to be present at the Seventeenth Annual Commencement of the Utah Agricultural College. Further notice and invitation will be sent to each of you, individually. This is simply a preliminary notice to remind you of the coming events, and to urge you to so arrange your affairs that you can be in attendance at all or most of the meetings. They are as follows: Saturday evening, May 21, Alumni Business Meeting, followed by an informal Reception; Sunday, May 22, Baccalaureate sermon; Monday evening, May 23, Senior Class program; Tuesday, May 24, at 6:00 p. m., the Alumni Banquet in the College Library, to be followed by the Alumni Ball at the Pavilion.

As loyal A. C. Alumni you should make it a point to attend the business meeting, Saturday night, where matters of vital importance to the organization will be transacted. The banquet this year will be better than ever and so will the alumni Ball. John T. Caine III, '03, will be toastmaster at the banquet and several tried and tested after-dinner speakers have been asked to respond to opportune toasts.

You will greatly facilitate our preparations for the Banquet by notifying J. L. Coburn, '05, at once, by card, letter, or telephone of the number of plates you wish reserved for yourself and friends.

THE NUPTIAL NOTE.

Another member of the Class of '09 has deserted the rapidly thinning ranks of the Alumni bachelors. From Hyrum comes notice of the wedding of Mr. H. R. Adams, '09, who has been employed all year as instructor in the Hyrum High School. Mr. and Mrs. Adams are "at home." Hyrum, Utah, after April twenty-fifth, nineteen ten.

PROMOTIONS.

George M. Turpin, '09, has been promoted from Instructor to an Assistant Professorship in Animal Husbandry at the U. A. C. for next year—an early recognition of Mr. Turpin's success as teacher, Station and Institute worker.

Miss Lizzie O. McKay, '09, will be in charge of the Department of Domestic Science and Art at the Weber Academy, Ogden, next year. During the present year she has been instructor in Domestic Science in the U. A. C.

Miss Ina Stratford, '09, in charge of Domestic Science at the Brigham High School, was a welcome visitor recently at the U. A. C. She is enjoying her work at Brigham, but this school still seems like home to her.

SCHOLARSHIPS IN HOME ECONOMICS.

The State Federation of Women's Clubs offers two scholarships which will refund to two students in Home Economics their entrance fees ($5.00) in the year 1910-1911. One of these is available for a College Student and one for a High School student. Applications for these scholarships should be made on or before May 15th, as they will be awarded at that time and partly on a scholarship basis. Applicants

THE BEST INVESTMENT ANY COW OWNER EVER MADE

That's what more than One Million Cow Owners the world over have found the DE LAVAL CREAM SEPARATOR to be, after thirty years of separator use.

A De Laval Farm Separator costs from $45 to $175, according to capacity. It saves butter fat and produces a cream of superior quality over any setting system or any other separator every time it is used, twice a day every day in the year.

It involves far less labor than any setting system, and runs easier, has greater capacity and lasts from two to ten times longer than any other separator.

That's how a DE LAVAL separator saves its cost at least the first year, and frequently in a few months, and then goes on doing so right along for an average of twenty years.

So far as other separators are concerned they leave off where the DE LAVAL machine begins, and the DE LAVAL makers, with thirty years of experience in separator construction and development, have forgotten more about separators than all the others know. In fact it's what the DE LAVAL has forgotten and discarded that the others use.

That's what makes the DE LAVAL CREAM SEPARATOR the best investment any cow owner ever made, and an investment no cow owner can have sound reason for delaying to make.

And in buying a DE LAVAL machine you don't have to part with one cent until you have satisfied yourself that every word of all this is simple truth. Any desired separator information can be had of the nearest DE LAVAL agent or of the company directly.

Have you seen Major Jones and "Mr. Bob" lately?

The Cache County Board of Education were A. C. visitors Monday, May 2nd.

The Boosters are our friends. Let us help them in their plea for better streets.

The college catalogue will be out between the fifteenth and twentieth of this month.

In Eng. 4, during thunder shower, Prof. Pederson: "What is thunder?"

Miss Buchler: "It is the noise of the clouds coming together."

Mr. J. S. Welch had the misfortune to be severely burned about the face and hands through the explosion of some chemistry apparatus, while experimenting.

A SCALP AT LAST

own. His speech was very convincing and positive in its nature, putting some of the opponents' arguments entirely out of use.

Mr. J. Marvin Spain then gave the last main talk for the negative. He affirmed what his colleague had said and digressed on the merits of the Canadian system and showed that our geographical and financial conditions were similar to those of Canada, and proposed it as the remedy needed. He also explained that the old Suffolk plan is feasible. Besides this he justified the United States system as the product of evolution and contended that it had grown up to suit our peculiar needs.

Mr. Krenmer came in next with a good rebuttal, incidentally proposing a system of his own, and raising a lot of objections to every thing proposed by the affirmative. In a few details he even disagreed with his colleague.

The affirmative then had a five minute inning at the rebuttal, and Mr. Wooley charged that the owler bill was only a temporary measure and that the 1907 panic was caused by over-speculation.

The negative was next represented by Mr. Spain, who covered a great deal of ground and denied some of the statements made by the affirmative. In his summary he made the following points: The first and second national banks were failures, moneyed men would control the central bank and that the Fowler bill provides practical remedy.

Mr. Porter had his last say and it was well said. Porter warmed up to his subject and did not refrain from using all the arguments and force at his command. He admitted the Canada plan to be good and said it was about the same kind of a central system that we wanted. In closing he claimed that the central system would improve our bank reserve, check speculation, improve the treasury and increase the elasticity. He pointed out that the central bank was the next logical step in our financial development and quoted from statistics that seventy per cent of the American bankers are opposed to the present system.

The debate was a good one. While it was plain that our boys had the best of it as soon as both sides had spoken, it must be remembered that the Montana boys were working against the odds of being away from home and having a large audience sentimentally against them. They put up a good fight and deserved the lusty cheers given for them before and after the debate. It was "honor for the victors, but no jeers for the vanquished."

The judges in giving the decision to the U. A. C. gave it fairly.

TRACK AND FIELD MEET WITH B. Y. U.

This morning at 8:15 our fellows left for Provo to meet the B. Y. University in a track and field meet.

The seniors are working on a good commencement programme.
